1766.

adjoining on the lower side of Portobago creek or swamp, and (b) for 350 acres on the lower side of Portobago creek.] [p. 686.]

(1767.) [On the Committee report of 10 June, the judgments are affirmed. The island and lands on Rappahannock river are those described in a patent to Sir Thomas Lunsford, Kt. and Bart., dated 24 Oct., 1650.] [V. pp. 317-8, 356-7.]

26 June. [657.] [Reference to the Committee of the petition of Lawrence Furlong, late master of the ship Newbury, for leave to appeal from its condemnation in the Bermuda Vice Admiralty Court, 20 Feb., 1765, in favour of Thomas Smith, collector of customs, and John Slater, Attorney General.] [p. 687.]

11 July. [On the Committee report of 8 July, the appeal is admitted. By a mistake, the petitioner's proctor had prayed and been allowed an appeal to the Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed, under the Great Seal, for receiving, hearing and determining appeals in cases of seizure: but petitioner has been advised that the proper jurisdiction in England is his Majesty in Council.] [pp. 695, 705.]

5 Aug. [The appeal is referred to the Committee. On 6 Sept. the hearing is appointed for the first meeting in March. On 25 June, 1767, an appearance is entered for Smith by Daniel Stone, attorney, of Lawrence Pountenay Lane.] [V. pp. 5, 21, 338.]

2 July. [658.] [Reference to the Committee of the petition of John Bahamas. Bryant, late master of the brigantine Recovery, for leave to appeal from the condemnation of the vessel in the Vice Admiralty Court at New Providence, 13 March, 1765, in favour of Samuel Gambier, Advocate General of the Bahamas, James Bradford, collector of customs, John Brown, naval officer, and Samuel Gambier, deputy searcher.] [p. 688.]

11 July. [On the Committee report of 8 July, the appeal is admitted. On 5 Aug. it is referred to the Committee, who on 6 Sept. agree to hear it at the first meeting in March, 1767.] [pp. 694, 706; V. pp. 5. 22.]
